

4182 Adams Avenue
San Diego, CA 92116

619-281-7165 phone
619-563-6840 fax

Autism.org
ARI's impact report is also available online: Autism.org/impact

Connect with the Autism Research Institute

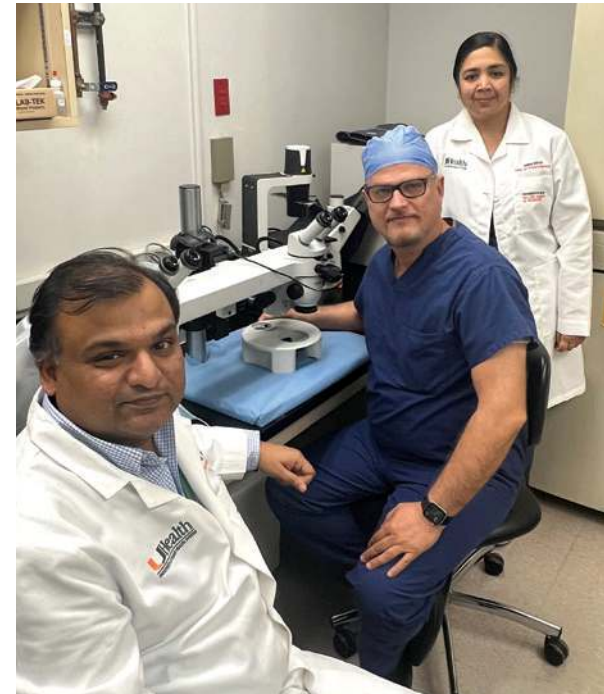

Non-Profit Org
U.S. Postage
PAID
LITHTEX NW

I am very grateful to the Autism Research Institute for generously funding our grant. This grant will provide us with an opportunity to determine the role of peroxyntirite in the pathophysiology of autism and develop novel treatment modalities in pursuit of improving the quality of life of affected individuals. Thank you for your help and for supporting our research.”

Adrien A. Eshraghi MD, MSc, FACS
2022 ARI Research Grant Recipient
University of Miami, Miller School of Medicine
Miami, FL

left to right: Rahul Mittal, PhD, Adrien A. Eshraghi, MD, MSc, FACS, and Jeenu Mittal, MSc

You have made a difference. Thank you.

Please know that your gift impacts so many individuals and families, through the research and free educational efforts of ARI.

GIVE WITH CONFIDENCE:

ARI's strong financial health and commitment to accountability and transparency have once again earned it Charity Navigator's highest "4-star" rating and Candid GuideStar's highest "Platinum" rating.

IMPACT REPORT

JANUARY 1-DECEMBER 31, 2022

Together, we made a difference.

AUTISM RESEARCH INSTITUTE
Autism is Treatable

We are on a mission.

Our Mission

To support the health and well-being of people affected by autism through innovative, impactful research and education.

Our Community

1 in 44 identified with Autism Spectrum Disorder

One in 44 children of school age has been identified with autism in a large, multicenter CDC study. www.CDC.gov/ncbddd/autism/data

Our Commitment

More than 88¢ of every $1

received by ARI directly funds research and education efforts.

Our past audits and annual reports are available online at: Autism.org/financial-information

Our Gratitude

Our work is only possible through the partnership of our donors, funders, families, and volunteers. We are so grateful for your support for research that makes a difference.

Research brings hope.

ARI supported innovative scientific research with grants provided in 2022 totaling more than $450,000

With this grant from ARI, we have the funding we need to better understand the cross-talk in the gut-brain axis. On behalf of my colleagues and staff, we thank the donors for their support.”

Natalia Battista, PhD
2022 ARI Research Grant Recipient

Università degli Studi di Teramo
Bioscience and Technology for Food, Agriculture and Environment
Teramo, Italy

Give with confidence. All grant applications are reviewed through a juried process facilitated by ARI's Scientific Advisory Board.

For a complete list of research studies funded by ARI, please visit Autism.org/ari-funded-research-studies-2022

Education gives help.

Our online presence expanded during the pandemic through our website, online tools, live webinars, and continuing-education offerings.

Parents, Medical Professionals, and Researchers

6,505 + 134,053 + 2,384 = 142,942
live webinar participants webinar playbacks Continuing Medical Education playbacks Total learning hours in 2022

Webinar and continuing-education topics in 2022 included: epilepsy, nutrition, behavioral support, assessment, educational therapies, adult issues, and more.

23 webinar topics 28 webinar speakers

Networks build community.

Worldwide resources and outreach: Our worldwide network expanded to 226 parent support groups in 77 countries.

140,000+ subscribers
monthly e-newsletter

10,000+ subscribers
monthly clinical research e-newsletter

= 145,400+ total subscribers:
individuals, caregivers, and clinicians

37th year of the Autism Research Review International
ARI's quarterly journal

The Autism Treatment Evaluation Checklist (ATEC)
is online in 25 languages; nearly 40,000 were submitted in 2022

Monthly International Aging and Autism Working Group

27 years of Think Tanks

We hosted our first-ever online Think Tank in 2021, and also resumed our in-person Think Tanks in 2022 after two years

ARI is a Non-Governmental Organization (NGO) registered with the United Nations.

